OVERVIEW

The Mechanical Engineering Technology (METC) Program at Ivy Tech Community College is a great opportunity for those who enjoy hands-on experiences. Curriculum in this program allows students to learn about materials, testing, and design. They will also learn skills such as synthesizing, improving and implementing mechanical designs. Students will gain a necessary understanding in order to support engineering processes such as collecting, analyzing, and interpreting data and troubleshooting mechanical systems.

TWO-YEAR PROGRAM OPTIONS

ASSOCIATE OF SCIENCE

(60 credit hours = 4 semesters)

The Associate of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering Technology prepares you for transfer to a university to pursue a baccalaureate degree. Graduates will also earn the Transfer General Education Certificate.

OUR GRADUATES

Our program prepares students to transfer to a four year engineering technology program at universities such as Purdue or IUPUI. At these universities students will be able to enhance their technology, science, and math skills to work with engineers and other technicians. Areas of work entry include design, manufacturing, transportation, computer and electronics.
